Important Notes

- Ninova: You have to follow the course announcements, your exam results, and attendance status on the Ninova system (http://ninova.itu.edu.tr/). Check the Ninova site regularly for updates.

- ITU Email Accounts: Course related e-mail notifications will be sent to your ITU account; check it regularly.

- Email Etiquette: When sending e-mail to the instructors or assistants, use your ITU account and always include your full name at the end of the message.

- Classroom Announcements: You are expected to know everything that was announced in the classroom. There does not necessarily have to be an announcement on Ninova. If you have missed a class, ask your classmates if there were any announcements that you need to know.

- Lecture attendance: Attendance will be checked on both hours of the 7 lecture sessions and announced as "-", "1", or "2" on Ninova.
- Lab attendance: This consists of the 4 exercise sessions by the assistants (4 hours), the demo sessions (3 hours per session, 12 hours in total), and the self-study hours where no other activity is planned (12 hours). At least one of the instructors or assistants will be available for questions and students will be assumed as present during the self-study hours. Lab attendance will not be announced on Ninova.
- Collaboration: Collaboration between teams on the projects is not allowed under any circumstances.

- Plagiarism: Any form of cheating or plagiarism will not be tolerated. This includes actions such as, but not limited to, submitting the work of others as one's own (even if in part and even with modifications) and copy/pasting from other resources (including Internet pages, even if attributed). Serious offenses will be reported to the faculty administration for disciplinary measures.
